

We DO NOT want banks we've done business with being able to call us to sell us new services. This is OUR phone, for which we pay the bill; and OUR home, which we also paid for. The banks have no right to invade our privacy against our will. What part of NO don't they understand?? We expect the FCC to uphold OUR desires, not theirs; unless you and they want to pay the bills around here.